This is a temporary process only and effective immediately

APPLIES ONLY TO GROUP CODES FLU@ and FUS@

Do not apply this process to any other group code.

When a fluent customer calls in and advised they cancelled long ago and asks why we took money, check Sedona, if you see a note PENDING CANCEL DISREGARD SIGNALS follow the process below

If there is no PENDING CANCEL NOTE follow normal retention process

Apologize clearly for the error

- Acknowledge the mistake
- Advise the customer was processed in error
- Confirm refund will be issued
- Go to Sedona and disable auto pay – do not delete - see steps on the last page

Email for refund + confirmation

- Send email to judy.gu@apidealers.com and terminalcancellations@apialarm.com

Email Requirements

- Subject must include
    - Sedona account number
    - Sims/stages account number
    - Group code (FLU@ or FUS@

Body of Email

- Account charged in error pending cancel disregard signals note
- Auto pay has been removed
- Refund required

Documentation

- Copy and paste email sent into Sedona notes

Additional Notes:

- If you are unsure whether an account qualifies escalate to your manager
- Follow same process if customer is emailing
- Do not discuss the pending cancel note. Do not advise the customer its not cancelled, rather if they ask, yes its cancelled. Simply apologize and advise them they are being refunded and it was an error
- Advise the customer to please not cancel the PAP or put a hold on their card/bank account on file until after we issue the refund. If the customer refuses inform them cheque runs are every two months and cannot be done sooner, refunds through PAP is within a few days but we need the payment info for the refund only and it will be deleted

Disable auto pay

To disable auto pay ensure the Recurring and Non-Recurring checkboxes below are unchecked; this will allow us to refund the customer directly on their credit card/banking account
